2.6. COMPETITION FORMAT

2.6.1. Ranking Round

The Archery competition will begin with the Men's and Women's Ranking Rounds, which will determine the seeding. In the Ranking Rounds, each Athlete will shoot 72 arrows at a distance of 70m (Recurve bow). The Athlete with the highest score in their Individual Event will be awarded the number one seeding, the Athlete with the second highest score will be awarded the number two seeding and so on until all athletes have been seeded. In case of any ties, the numbers of tens and Xs will be used as tiebreakers.

Except for position number eight that will solve the tie with the shoot-off.

The Ranking Round scores will also be used to determine the seeding for the Team (Mixed Team) events. The individual scores of the three (3) athletes in each team (two (2) athletes for each mixed team) will be combined to give a total team (mixed team) score, which will be ranked against the scores of other teams (mixed teams).

After the Ranking Rounds, all eight (8) Medal Events will be conducted in a single elimination format, with individual athletes and teams (Mixed Teams) competing in a series of head-to-head matches. The losers of the two (2) Semi-Finals in each event will compete in matches to determine the winners of the Bronze Medals. The winners of the two (2) Semi-Finals in each event will compete in matches to determine the winners of the Gold Medals.

Compound athletes shoot at 80cm targets set 50m away; with six (6) scoring zones (the outer four (4) are removed). Competition starts with a 72-arrow Ranking Round used to rank athletes.

2.6.2. Individual Elimination and Final Rounds

In Recurve (Men's and Women's) 48 ranked athletes will be placed in a Single Elimination and Final Rounds head-to-head pairing chart, according to their ranking achieved in the Ranking Round.

All male and female Recurve athletes shoot their elimination and final matches at a distance of 70m. Athletes take turns to shoot their arrows, alternating, one (1) arrow at a time in a time limit of 20 seconds each.

The winner of each set will be awarded two (2) set points or one (1) point each, if the scores for the set are tied. The first Athlete to achieve six (6) set points wins the match. In case both athletes shoot 10 points on the first arrow of the shoot-off, the second arrow will be shot to break tie. The winner of the shoot-off will be awarded one (1) set point, taking the match six to five (6-5).

In the Compound Elimination Round, where 16 men and 16 women are seeded according to their positions in the Ranking Round, they shoot a series of head-to-head matches, each match consisting of five (5) ends with cumulative scoring.

In case of a tie score at the end of five (5) ends a single arrow shoot-off will break the tie. If both competitors shoot their first arrow of the shoot-off X, the second arrow will be shot to break the tie; if both archers shoot any other value, the closest to the centre will assign the victory in the match.

2.6.3. Team Elimination and Final Rounds

Eight (8) ranked Men's and Women's Teams will be placed in a Single Elimination and Final Rounds head-to-head pairing chart, according to their ranking achieved in the Ranking Round.

The Team Event is "the best of four" sets with the teams shooting alternately six (6) arrows in each set (two (2) arrows per athlete) in a two-minute time limit.

The teams shoot three (3) arrows alternately, one team after the other team. When a team has shot three (3) arrows, their time pauses, and the other team starts to shoot their three (3) arrows. The procedure is repeated until both teams have shot six (6) arrows.

Each team has to alternate members after each shot so that each member has shot one (1) arrow in each phase of the rotation. The team with the highest cumulative score in the set wins and is awarded two (2) set points. One (1) point is awarded to each team, if the scores are tied.

The first team to achieve five (5) set points wins the match. However, if team set points are tied at four to four (4-4) after the fourth set, a shoot-off will be required.

Each of the three (3) team members shoot one (1) arrow in rotation, in a time limit of one (1) minute and alternation between the teams shall take place after every shot arrow. The team with the highest cumulative score wins the match five to four (5-4). However, if the cumulative shoot-off score is tied, the team with the arrow closest to the centre of the target wins the match.

2.6.4. Mixed Team Elimination and Final Rounds

The top twenty-four (24) Recurve mixed teams and nine (9) Compound mixed teams each composed of the top-ranked men and women athletes (one (1) of each gender per team) from the same NOC are seeded according to their positions as determined by their total score in the Ranking Round. If there is a tie for the 24th or 25th place, there will be a shoot-off. Competition will then proceed in a single elimination format, which will be the best of four (4) sets, with four (4) sets including four (4) arrows in each set (two (2) arrows per athlete) in an 80-second time limit.

The competition format for the Mixed Team Elimination and Final Rounds will be similar to the Team Elimination and Final Rounds.

2.6.5. Final Rankings and Medal Matches

Losers of the Semi-Finals will compete in the Bronze Medal match, while winners will progress to the Gold Medal match.

The top eight (8) athletes (teams) shall be individually ranked. Athletes/teams eliminated in the Quarter Final shall be ranked in a match play using sets, by the number of set points and if tied, by the number of cumulative points shot.

- 1/16 shall be ranked 17th;

5.2. THE CITY OF MINSK

Minsk is the capital of the Republic of Belarus. It is the largest city in the country populated by two (2) million people or every one in five inhabitants of Belarus. It is the administrative, economic, cultural, scientific and sports centre of the country.

5.2.1. Sights and Sites

Downtown

The historic centre of Minsk still has some majestic temples and monuments. If you want to feel the spirit of the old days, take a walk through the Freedom Square with architectural monuments of the 17-19th centuries stood the test of time, the Trinity and Rakovskoye suburbs, and narrow cobbled streets running in different directions from the historic centre. Every building here is a kind of a chapter of Minsk history.

The Minsk party scene is conveniently centred in the heart of the Old Town. To get a glimpse of the nightlife with its bars, live-music venues and nightclubs visitors should go straight to Zybetskaya Street that transforms into a giant street party on summer weekend nights.

Minsk visitors can enjoy lively bars and clubs to have some fun at night. Food and drinks are reasonably priced. Bars, clubs and discos are open till late in the morning, especially during weekends. Zybetskaya Street is the most famous street of night bars, clubs and discos.

Soviet Sights

Minsk is famous for its Soviet architecture. Many buildings along the Independence Avenue (Praspiekt Niezaliežnasci) are a vivid example of the Soviet times architecture forming an integral ensemble with peculiar style and composition features. The 1950s architectural ensemble is the real gem of the avenue and a candidate for the UNESCO World Heritage List. Most of Minsk attractions are located if not on the Avenue, then close to it.

Modern Minsk

Over the recent decades, the architectural style of Minsk has considerably changed with the construction of new administrative buildings, business centres, shopping malls, sports and entertainment centres, hotels, restaurants, and cafés.

National library of Belarus and Palace of Independence are among the most impressive buildings that has been constructed in recent decades in Minsk.

Another face of modern Minsk is Oktyabrskaya Street – one of the most popular and fancy places. Former industrial street has become one of the main leisure and party areas of the city. The red brick buildings of the late 19th – early 20th century, decorated with modern paintings, sit side by side with the numerous bars, cafés, exhibition halls, creative studios and workshops and offices.

Museums and Exhibitions

There are more than 20 museums in Minsk. The National Art Museum of Belarus is the cultural treasury of Belarus. The Museum's collection is one of the largest collections in Eastern Europe. There are more than 30,000 exhibits, including masterpieces of Belarusian and foreign art.

The National Historical Museum is among the most visited museums of Belarus. The museum houses the largest collection in Belarus with more than 400,000 items. Be sure to drop by to learn about the history of Belarus through the ages! Study its unique exhibits – valuable documents, early printed books, Slutsk belts, coins and medals, weapons, musical instruments and dinnerware – to trace the historical path of Belarus.

The Belarusian State Museum of the Great Patriotic War History is one of the largest world museums dedicated to World War II. The first items for its collection were picked up as early as 1942. The new building of the museum was opened in 2014 on the 70th anniversary of the liberation of Belarus and now houses more than 8,000 exhibits on 3,000m<sup>2</sup>. The museum is situated on Pobediteley Avenue near the Minsk-Hero City Stella and the Victory Park.

Theatres

Minsk is home to number of theatres, playhouses and concert halls that present some of the best local and, often, international productions. From world class ballets and musicals to experimental and original works, you will undoubtedly find a theatrical experience that suite your taste at one or more of these Minsk theatres listed below.

The National Academic Bolshoi Opera & Ballet Theatre of the Republic of Belarus is one of Europe's biggest theatres and the architectural landmark of Minsk. The theatre has a truly unique repertoire, made up of about 60 titles of operas and ballets of different epochs and styles. The theatre building makes a strong impression thanks to the perfect symmetry of the park around it, the statues on the pediment and the abundance of marble and crystal inside. It is better to purchase the tickets in advance as for all classical productions they are sold out quite quickly.

Janka Kupala National Academic Theatre has been preserving the best traditions of the Belarusian theatrical art for almost a hundred years, combining them with the search for new solutions and forms. The main place in the repertoire of the theatre is occupied by performances based on the works of Belarusian writers and playwrights. A visit to the Kupala Theatre can be recommended to those who appreciate the tradition, those who are looking for meaning in the theatre and not just entertainment, and to those who want to better understand the national culture.

Parks and Outdoor Activities

One crucial aspect of Minsk spatial organisation is the "Green Diametre" – several often-sprawling parks along the banks of the Svisloch River that cuts through Minsk from north-west to south-east.

The most picturesque parks of Minsk are Janka Kupała Park, with its landscaped paths and sculptures, the Central Children's Park named after Maxim Gorky, Chelyuskintsev Park, Park Complex "Loshitsa", Park Complex "Victory".

The Botanical Garden is worth to visit. It is one of the largest in Europe by total area (about 100ha in the city) and by the richness of the collection, which has more than 10,000 plants from around the world. The greenhouse demonstrates exotic plants typical for different climatic zones of the planet. In the garden you can relax and switch off from the bustle of the city. The main entrance to the garden is from the Independence Avenue.
